

VUMI SAMPLE™ - Repository (Video)

The screenshot displays a VUMI ePortfolio interface. At the top left, the text "My Reflections" is visible above a stylized green figure and the word "URCHIN" in large purple letters. The main content area features a video player with a YouTube logo, showing two women in conversation. Below the video is a progress bar at 01:12 / 05:04. To the right of the video is a metadata panel titled "My Reflections" with the following details:

My Reflections

Title: Branding
Date: 08/03/2010
Content: A brand is a name used to identify and distinguish a specific product, service, or business. A legally protected brand name is called a proprietary name.

Title: Spot & Process colours
Date: 08/03/2010
Content: Spot Colours

Spot colours are the preferred method of producing stationery inexpensively. This is also the method used where colour accuracy is also deemed essential. The standard reference guide to spot colour work is Pantone.

Basically, an ink colour is ready-mixed to produce a particular colour or is Pantone 022.

Below the metadata panel are navigation tabs: Downloads, Photos, Videos, Audio, and Links. The Links tab is active, showing a list of links:

- Sound Advice TV - Newsletters Vol 2
- Sound Advice TV - Mailing lists
- Sound Advice TV - Mailing lists Vol 2

At the bottom of the interface, there is a "Leave feedback for this page" button and a VUMI logo. A footer at the very bottom of the page reads "This is an ePortfolio by Andrea Smith".
